

Jessica Lanan

AUTHOR AND ILLUSTRATOR

I'd love to visit your school or library!

My interactive presentations offer a behind-the-scenes look at the process behind picture book creation and inspire kids to follow their curiosity and passions.

Presentations are tailored to three different age ranges:

- PreK-Kindergarten focuses on the joy of reading and how books can open the door to discovery. I walk students through the general process of how I go from an idea to finished book. Students are left empowered and inspired to read and learn!
- Grades 1-3 explains the process of how books are written and illustrated in more detail. I show more of my research process. Includes a video art demo and fun trivia game where students can test their knowledge.
- Grades 4-5 includes all of the above but also empowers students to begin writing their own stories. Includes my secret Writing Recipe: a foolproof plan to get us past the obstacles that can stop us from telling our stories!

A hands on storyboarding workshop and presentations for older students are available upon request.

F.A.Q.

Why can't you present for free?

While I wish I could, unfortunately just like you I need to make a living. Budgets are often tight, but there are lots of creative ways to fund school visits! I'm happy to work with you to find a solution.

How are book sales handled?

Book sales can be arranged via the Boulder Bookstore: I will provide an easy order form for students to take home so they can purchase personalized copies.

What do I need to do to get started?

Email me at hello@jessicalanan.com to find out more.

Can I record the visit?

Unfortunately I can't allow video recording. Photos are welcome!
